

Formation of Partnership.

A Partnership business may be established without any formality although the partners have certain unavoidable obligations to third parties, they may make such agreement between themselves in respect of the internal management of the firm. It is accordingly usual for people entering into the partnership to express their intention in a partnership agreement known as partnership deed or deed of partnership is an agreement, rules and regulations guiding the members of the partnership business.